WHAT TO PACK
Kunming is called “Spring City of China” meaning that it feels like spring all year round. It never gets very hot in the summer or very cold in the winter.

The volt used in China is 220V. If you bring your laptop, then a volt converter and an adapter might be needed. However, if your package is full of stuff, you can still get them here in Kunming, in the supermarket nearby (your life advisor will show you around after you come here).
